Like to mock but ...

- Shared sense of where from
- Shared identity
- Shared values
- All part of the American Dream

People in the USA are proud to be American

How proud are you to be an American -- extremely proud, very proud, moderately proud, only a little proud, or not at all proud?

By age, region, ideology, and party ID

	Extremely/ Very proud	Moderately proud	Only a little/ Not at all proud

Are we proud to be British?

As Brits we don't do proud!

- Embarrassed?
- British reserve?
- Colonialism?

Very BRITISH PROBLEMS

Being genetically incapable of saying what we

So, what are British values?

- Won't find it on Wikipedia
- Not in the dictionary
- Different depending on who you talk to

Democracy

- Everyone over 18 years has the right to vote (are some exemptions)
- Only those who are elected can make rules about how we live
- There are regular elections
- Elections are free and fair

Freedom of Speech

- Within some limits, everyone in the country is allowed to say what they want to
- We encourage people to think for themselves
- We respect the views of others

Respect for other views

- We are a country made up of individuals
- We respect that other people have different religions
- We respect that other people have different ideas
- We respect that other people have different lifestyles

Multiculturalism

- We have a long history of multiculturalism in this country
- Over thousands of years we have had people coming here from around the world

Respect the rule of law

- We have had laws in our country for centuries
- The Magna Carta
- Those laws have developed over time so that all members of our society are protected and safe
- This includes those who break the law!

Should we be proud to be British?

Definitely!
