LRC NEWSLETTER

MARCH 2024

Welcome

Its been a busy time since our last newsletter with so many great things to mention - here are just a few! We look forward to our Spring reading promotion, Earth Day, World Superhero Day and more in April! You can continue to access books, comics and magazines via SORA during the holidays - use the free app or go to our website. Happy Easter!

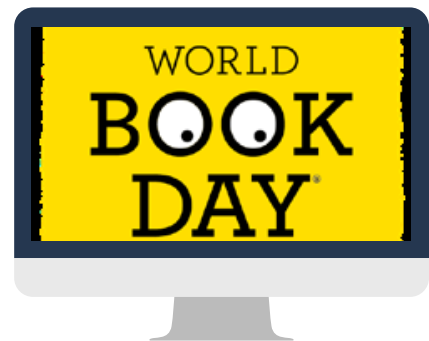

NEW BOOKS

- We bought a great set of Surviving The Impossible books in support of reading for inquiry - a world without power or water, a nuclear war, an ice age and more!
- More Teen Book Reviewer titles came from the Hampshire Schools Library Service for our students to review.

WORLD BOOK DAY

We had 18 entries for the tutor group dressed door competition and the judges decisions were tricky to make. 8KLE were the winners with their very detailed hand-drawn and painted Alice In Wonderland creation. Well done to everyone who took part!

Other News

March also saw us supporting National Careers Week with information posters and books.

British Science Week was a great chance to get the best of our science books out on display!

International Women's Day gave students a chance to pop in to give an important woman in their life a special mention. They could also read about lots of influential women across many decades.

NatterReads

This wonderful book group goes from strength to strength with book battles, bookchat and activities. Seeing year 11 boys join in and hearing shy younger years students find their voice through booktalk is a powerful testament to the value of books and reading opening up opportunities for all!

Come and join in or just hang out with us on Fridays at lunchtime!

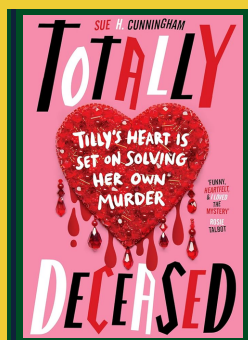

NeuroDiversity Celebration Week

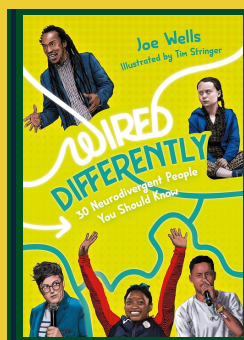

This was our first big event for this very important awareness week. We provided both fiction and information books, activities, readings, a display of famous/well-known people who are neurodivergent, screened the award winning tv programme A Kind of Spark, had a go at neurographic drawing, held quizzes and had discussions. We certainly raised awareness of many of the dozens of ways in which people can be neurodivergent and will definitely be involved in this again next year!

Thank you to all who took part!
