Outstanding GCSE Success for Harrow Way's Class of 2025

The determination, commitment and sheer hard work of students at Harrow Way have once again paid off as our Year 11 celebrate another year of excellent GCSE results. Outcomes continue to rise year on year, and this summer sees a third of our students attaining the highest grades – an achievement that demonstrates the outstanding progress students make at Harrow Way. These qualifications give them the confidence and qualifications to take their next steps – whether at college, in apprenticeships and beyond.

There were some standout individual performances, with several students achieving top grades. Among them were Molly Grindley, Head Boy Ed Whitehouse, Michal Bobek, Robert Vasiluca, Head Girl Malia Cooper and Katy Dyer. Other high achievers celebrating today include Sam Greenaway, Joseph Figueiredo, Julie Pearce and Alice Homer.

While these headline results are hugely impressive, the school is equally proud of the achievements of every student. A number of students overcame barriers to learning or personal adversity, including those grieving the loss of their best friend or a family member.

This year's results highlight strong performance across the curriculum, with particular success in Science, English, Computer Science, Languages, Performing Arts, Philosophy and Ethics, Catering and Physical Education. The breadth of achievement across subjects reflects both the talent and resilience of Harrow Way students, and the dedication of staff in helping them to succeed.

Headteacher, Mrs Dawn German, praised the students' achievements:

"I could not be prouder of the class of 2025 – both as a year group and as individuals. They have grown into confident, capable young adults, ready to take their next steps. Their journey has not been easy: having missed important primary school experiences due to the pandemic, then faced further disruption to learning in Year 7 and, earlier this year, the devastating loss of a classmate from their year group — a tragedy that had a profound impact on them all. Despite this, they have shown remarkable resilience, determination and strength of character, and today's results are testament to their hard work."

She added, "Our students' success is only possible because of the passion and commitment of our teachers and support team. We pride ourselves on being an inclusive school, which cares about every child's success, and today's results show that all our young people, whatever their background or starting point, can thrive here. These achievements reflect exceptional teaching and learning at Harrow Way, alongside a culture of care, encouragement and ambition."
